

Governor Morgan Telegraphs Appeal For Federal Troops

Notifies President Harding That Armed Men Are Reassembling
at Marmet

In Large Numbers

Keeney's Personal Representative
Regards Situation as Extremely Grave He Reports to Chief

Chattanooga, Aug. 29.—Gov. E. S. Morgan at midnight telegraphed an appeal to President Harding to send federal troops into West Virginia.

Armed men from the Paint Creek and Cabin Creek coal fields are reassembling at Marmet and at other points along the Logan river between the Kanawha river and Madison, in large numbers, according to reports received at the office of Gov. Morgan late tonight.

They include many of the men who were turned back by C. F. Keeney of District 17, United Mine Workers, and Brig. Gen. H. H. Vandhooft, several days ago and they have expressed their intentions to again take the march toward the Logan county line, the governor's office was informed. It was also stated at the executive office that no further formal request has been made for federal aid. The war department, however, is being kept in constant touch with the situation by telephone and telegraph, it was stated.

Adj. Gen. Charnock and A. C. Porter, personal representative of C. F. Keeney, tonight returned to Chattanooga from Logan county, where they went yesterday to investigate conditions along the Logan-Boone county border.

Adj. Gen. Charnock reported to Gov. Morgan that developments in Logan county today "indicate grave danger of a pitched battle within twenty-four hours which would be bound to result in many casualties on both sides." He reported a new gathering of forces and told the governor that resentments aroused by the reported capture of several Logan county deputy sheriffs by unidentified persons, has been growing among the deputies and "may result in an attack for the purpose of freeing the men."

Porter reported to C. F. Keeney of those executive force he is a member, that he regarded the situation as extremely grave.

Chattanooga, W. Va., Aug. 29.—While almost 100 officers and men of the West Virginia state police and some 250 deputy sheriffs kept watch of the mountain ridges near the Logan-Boone county line tonight, efforts were still being made by county and state officers to ascertain the number of casualties suffered by a party of armed men in the brush at Beach creek early Sunday.

No official statement was made by Gov. Morgan's office, but from the Kanawha Coal Operators' association came the news that three of the dead had been identified as William L. Greer of Mattawan and Cecil Clark and W. M. Morrison of Shartles, a little town near the scene of the encounter.

A R. Yarbrough, traffic manager of the coal operators, said the men were employed by the Boone County Coal corporation and that Greer was one of the men evicted from a house of the Stone Mountain Coal corporation on the day of the Mattawan battle.

There was still some doubt as to the number of casualties in the fight, but from Logan came the statement that four men had been killed and a dozen wounded. These figures, however, were not given as final.

State police headquarters at Ethel expressed ignorance as to the number of killed and wounded, but said reports there gave the number at five or seven dead and 14 wounded.

Wire communications from the disturbed area were cut off during most of two days, transmission companies reporting that lines were out of order. Soon after communication was restored, Gov. Morgan announced at his office that armed bands were still in that section under the leadership of men from Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana and Illinois, whose names he gave.

Grand Jury Indictments.

Williamstown, W. Va., Aug. 29.—Indictments charging murder today were returned by a special grand jury against C. F. Keeney, president and Fred Mooney, secretary of District 17, United Mine Workers of America, and David Robb, international organizer for the Mine Workers' union. Keeney and Mooney were indicted separately and jointly charged with having killed two men last May. The indictment against Robb is for the killing of William McCullen, a state trooper.

State Officials Censured

Washington, Aug. 29.—Federal troops will not be sent to West Virginia to deal with the situation in the coal fields there unless another request is made by the state authorities, Secretary Weeks announced today after a conference with President Harding.

The war department, in a statement dealing with the situation, said that Brig. Gen. H. H. Vandhooft, who investigated conditions in the coal fields, was of the opinion that the state authorities had made but "feeble attempts to check the growth of the insurgent movement," which led to a march to the Mingo section.

Governor Morgan, in a letter to Gen. Vandhooft, written Sunday, said there was every indication that the situation "which led to my request for federal assistance has reverted to its original position."

"I feel, however," Governor Morgan wrote, "it was necessary for the federal government to show that it was ready to strike hard should the occasion require in order to promptly bring our unruly element to their senses. This was shown by your presence and quick action which almost immediately restored confidence and caused the law-breakers to pause and reconsider."

REPLY TO PREMIER NOT YET PREPARED

Sum Feiners Reported Ready to Carry Battle Into Enemy's Country

(By The Associated Press)

Dublin, Aug. 29.—The republican ministers were busy today consulting together and with their supporters concerning the Irish situation, but it was officially announced this evening that no reply to the latest communication of David Lloyd George, the British premier, would be sent to London tonight.

Officials at Dublin Castle and other persons interested in the success of the peace negotiations seemed disappointed over the delay in replying to Mr. Lloyd George. It was admitted to the circle, which generally has received early news of any decisions the Daily Express is to make, that it was not known what the latest reply of Mr. DeValera and his followers would be. Optimism, however, prevailed at the castle, and likewise among a large section of the public.

The report that Michael Collins, the Sinn Féin minister of finance intends to speak in Armagh next Sunday is considered here as an indication that the Sinn Féin intends to carry the battle for a united Ireland into the "enemy's country."

BUILDING TRADES CRAFTSMEN IN SAN FRANCISCO END STRIKE

San Francisco, Aug. 29.—A four-months tie-up in the building industry in San Francisco ended today when several thousand union craftsmen returned to work on the employers' terms, which included a cut of 7 1/2 per cent in wages.

The union men voted to return as individuals under the best terms they could obtain without formal recognition by the unions of the open-shop basis.

(By The Associated Press)

Chicago, Aug. 29.—A damage suit for $120,000,000 charging a packing conspiracy in Chicago with conspiracy to form a trust, and naming John D. Rockefeller, Sr. and his son in addition to several national banks, was filed today in the United States District court by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Osborn Serson, of Omaha, Neb.

The bill sets up that "due to the scandal caused by embalmers' beef the soldiers during the Spanish-American war, your complainants were inspired to manufacture pork and bean biscuits which would be at once edible and nourishing. Swift and company promised use of the laboratories, but the packing companies, the complainants, "maliciously, unlawfully, and wickedly conspired to stifle competition, and your complainant felt they had been damaged to the amount of $120,000,000 and they pray for a judgment for this sum," the bill states.

The bill includes also Charles M. Schnab, Theodore Shonts, now deceased, Standard Oil company of all states, and the Riggs National Bank of Washington.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS COUNCIL ACCEPTS TASK

(By The Associated Press)

Geneva, Aug. 29.—The council of the League of Nations has accepted the task of solving the question of the disposition of Upper Silesia, Virent 13th, as president of the council, so informed Premier Briand of France after today's session of the council.

Discussion of the subject, however, will not be started before Thursday, the council's meeting time studying the voluminous documents of the tangled case, which were distributed to them today. Whether Germany and Poland will be invited to send representatives to present their claims and explain their case to the council is to be decided Thursday.

PUBLIC OPINION SHOULD DEMAND

Open Door and Sunlight of Publicity at Disarmament Conference of Nations

BANKRUPTCY OR WAR

Unless People Command and See
They Get Reduction of Armies and Navies

Asbury Park, N. J., Aug. 29.—Senator Borah asked an audience here tonight to help "get a little more democracy in foreign affairs."

The senator, although one of the foremost advocates of armament limitations, predicted that the coming conference on armament would be a complete failure unless public opinion unmistakably demanded reductions of navies and armies.

"Pry open the doors of the conference," declared Senator Borah. "Let the sunlight of publicity beat in upon the dark and secret places. Let us know what is going on before it has been concluded in order that public opinion may have its moulding and directing effect. Above all, let responsibility be fixed and then let public opinion out from power those who betray the cause."

"Disarmament will be such a delusion, a fraud, conceived with impure purposes and false promises unless there is found demanding it and supporting it what amounts to a moral and social revolution. It will come only at the command of the people, united and determined, persistent and untiring."

"It is your fight. . . . That conference will not accomplish anything of real and substantial worth except it be directed and dominated by the commanding voice. In the name of the dead upon a thousand battlefields, in the name of countless millions bending under the crushing burden of war, in the name of the maimed and wounded who crowd our streets and hospitals, in the name of all who are hereafter to inherit the earth, let us not lose interest. Let us not give up hope, let us rather as a people resolve that our hearts and hope and prayer will be rewarded, let us be brave and direct and, yes, command, the men who have this fearful responsibility resting upon them."

Old-fashioned diplomacy brought on the war with Teutonic power, he said, "and the same system of secret negotiations is relied upon to solve the problem which confronts us."

"And already the system is bearing fruit," he added. "England and France have traveled far apart in the last three years, how far one hardly dares to estimate. Public officials in the congress of the United States and the Diet of Japan announced to their people that great navies and armies are necessary because of the treachery of the other nations. You know, and I know, and every man who can and cares to think, knows that under this program we are headed for bankruptcy or war, or both."

"It means moral break down. It means industrial pox for the masses. It may mean in the future, as it has always meant in the past, wounds and mangled bodies and shattered minds and millions dead before a decade has come and gone."

"Who can stop this kind of affairs? Nobody can stop it but you, the people of this country, the people of Great Britain and of Japan, the people as distinct from government."

COWARDLY ESCORT STRUCK NO BLOWS

When Negroes Held Couple up, Assaulting Woman and Robbing Male Companion

Barnstable, Mass., Aug. 29.—A hearing today on charges of assault upon a young white woman and the robbery of her escort preferred against John Dies and Benjamin Gomez, resulted in the holding of the two Cape Verde negroes for the grand jury, which meets here on Oct. 10. In the default of bonds of $15,000 each, which were continued, they were remanded to jail. Joseph Andrews a minor, the third member of the trio, who was threatened with lynching by a mob here recently, will be given a hearing in the juvenile court on September 6.

William Eldridge, the escort, took the stand late today, after Miss Gertrude Butler, the victim of the alleged assault, and her physician had occupied most of the day with their testimony. Although the court room was filled and crowds surrounded the court house, when the three negroes were transferred there from the jail there was no disorder.

Eldridge and of the alleged holdup and of being left alone with the girl and one of the negroes for some time. He smoked a cigarette and talked with the captor. Later, when the others returned, he was covered with a gun and taken to a point about 15 feet in the rear of their automobile, where he was guarded by the negroes alternately.

Earlier in the day Miss Butler was cross examined by William H. Lewis, counsel for Dies. The examination brought out that Miss Butler did not remember whether she fought against her assailants. She did not see Eldridge strike any blows, and said she did not know whether the three men, while Eldridge and Miss Butler were walking home from a dance. They were forced to enter an automobile, robbed and driven to some woods two miles away, where Eldridge was removed from the car and the girl was assaulted, Miss Butler testified.

RIOING IN BELFAST CAUSES TWO DEATHS

(By The Associated Press)

Belfast, Aug. 29.—Rioting, accompanied by shooting and bombing, which broke out at midnight today in North Queens street along the Lodge road, and was renewed later in the afternoon brought about the death of two persons—a visitor to the city and a shipyard worker. Six others were wounded.

Armored cars were summoned to patrol the locality when the rioting started. There was a period of calm upon their arrival but disorder broke out later, accompanied by wild firing, which made the streets dangerous for pedestrians.

ALLEGED GANGSTER, HUNTED BY POLICE, SURRENDERS

New York, Aug. 29.—While the entire New York police force hunted William Hooey, alleged gangster, for the murder of Daniel Neville Saturday night, Hooey walked into Sing Sing prison today and asked the protection of Chaplain Cashlin. He told the chaplain he feared misinterpretation from the police if they found him first. He was later brought to New York.

Chaplain Cashlin said Hooey told him he was talking with Neville when four men approached. Neville followed them and one opened fire, killing him. Fearing he would be blamed by the police, he fled, Hooey said.

ORDERS N. Y. CITY TO SHOW CAUSE

Why Receiver Should Not Be Ap-

BRING SECOND SUIT

Traction Situation in Metropolis
Involving Hundreds of Millions of Dollars Near Climax

New York, Aug. 29.—The New York traction situation, involving hundreds of millions of dollars, which for several years has held the front of the stage in local finance and politics, today appeared to be approaching a climax.

A second suit, seeking a receivership for the Interborough Rapid Transit company was filed this afternoon in federal court, while the stock market was showing ill effects of a prior suit of similar nature brought last Saturday.

The second suit was filed by Clarence H. Verner, president of the Continental Securities company, who also seeks a receivership for the Manhattan Railway company, which operates elevated lines and is leased by the Interborough, operator of most of the city's subways. Saturday's suit was brought by the American Brake Shoe and Foundry company, which is presenting its claim of $57,074.90 for supplies, contended that the Interborough owed more than $2,000,000 to various concerns for equipment and materials, which it was unable to pay.

The complaints today alleged that charges against the company exceeded earnings by $4,464,000 during the year ending last June 30. The lease of the Manhattan Railway company was largely responsible for the Interborough's financial plight, it said, advocating its abrogation through receivership, to prevent "irreparable disaster." The complaints declared the Interborough was carrying as assets aggregating $50,000,000 worthless items, such as the stock of defunct companies. Federal Judge Mayer ordered the company and the city to show cause next Thursday why a receiver should not be appointed.

The present city administration, which has fought all efforts of local traction companies to obtain more than a five cent fare, professed to see political significance in the receivership applications.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH'S NOTABLE PROGRESS

Thirty Colleges Maintained by Denomination Double Their Enrollment Since 1918

Winona Lake, Ind., Aug. 29.—Progress by the Christian church (Disciples of Christ) will be discussed at its international convention which opens here tomorrow. Sessions continue through September 4.

An interesting piece of work which the convention will hear of is the building of churches through a permanent loan fund. This fund was established in 1839 with a gift of $5,000 from General F. M. Drake, a former governor of Iowa. By re-lending the money, ninety-three churches have been erected in thirty-two years.

During the last nine months sixty-six churches have been built by the denomination in twenty-nine states and one Canadian province.

Report of the missionary activities of the church will be an important feature of the convention. Recently the church has opened a mission to the Indians at White Swan, Washington, where 3,500 Indians are living on a reservation. Oriental missions are maintained in San Francisco, Portland and Los Angeles, and a mission for Mexicans is maintained in San Antonio, Tex. An appeal of 100,000 Bibles be sent to Russia will be made at the convention, it is said.

Thirty colleges maintained by the denomination have doubled their enrollment since 1918, according to the report prepared by its board of education. An orphan's home has been established in Dallas, Tex., while a home for the aged nearing completion at Jacksonville, Fla., will accommodate seventy-five persons.

Fifty-one new missionaries were sent to foreign fields this summer. In the Congo the church is carrying on extensive and successful work among the natives. Recently a fully equipped saw-mill was shipped there and is now in operation in the African forests under missionary supervision. The church also maintains a mission in Thailand, where eight missionaries are stationed.

It was there that Dr. A. S. Shelton was captured by bandits several years ago and held for ransom for seventy days. Doctor Shelton is now returning to his station after a full year in this country. Next spring, on special invitation from Dalai Lama, ruler of Tibet, he expects to visit in capital, the "forbidden city" of Lhasa. He will carry supplies for two years.

FARMER BURNED TO DEATH.

Rochester, Aug. 29.—C. C. Pontius, 70 years old, was burned to death today in a fire that destroyed the barn on his farm at Mendota, on the eastern shore of Seneca lake. Efforts of A. S. Raymond, to save the victim proved futile. The younger Pontius was forced to flee the burning structure for safety. The charred body of the farmer was recovered later. Property damage is estimated at $15,000.

450 IRISH PRISONERS START HUNGER STRIKE

(By the Associated Press.)

Cork, Ireland, Aug. 29.—Four hundred and fifty Republicans in the Spike Island internment camp have served notice on the governor that unless they are released tomorrow they will start a hunger strike. They have their demand on the grounds that the English government has no legal or moral right to detain them.

A score of these interned started a hunger strike on the refusal of a previous demand for release. The question has been put to a vote and 450 agreed to refuse food in order to "bring their inhuman treatment before the world."

KAISER'S PET FORTS BEING DYNAMITED

Every Day a Veritable Fourth of July Celebration on Island of Heligoland

Heligoland, Aug. 29.—Every day is a Fourth of July celebration on the little rocky island of Heligoland. And not a safe and sane celebration at that.

At sunrise the 1,000 German workmen who are dynamiting the pet forts and naval harbor of Kaiser William II set off their blasts. The bombardment keeps up throughout the day. Charges of TNT mangle the water in the naval harbor about up like geysers in the Yellowstone Park and the big gun pits on the summit of the rocky cliff give an occasional roar like Vesuvius and belch out great clouds of black smoke and pulverized concrete.

For two years more the work of devastation will continue night and day. It took Kaiser William II eight years to build the great fortress and naval harbor which defended the Kiel Canal and afforded Germany's navy a base close to England. It cost Germany 50,000,000 of gold marks. The cost of dynamiting it, which Germany also must bear in accordance with the terms of the Versailles Treaty, will probably be about 4,000,000 of gold marks.

Heligoland proper is a stony triangle less than a mile long and scarcely a quarter of a mile wide in the broadest section. It stands nearly 200 feet above the waters of the North Sea at a point 31 miles northwest of Cuxhaven, the entrance to the Kiel Canal. The walls of the island are practically perpendicular but at its south-eastern end is a small beach upon which the German navy erected a cooling and oil station, fresh-water reservoirs, seaplane sheds and docks. Here also was constructed a naval harbor thoroughly protected by sea walls, which was capable of accommodating eight or ten destroyers or cruisers and an unlimited number of submarines.

This harbor many destroyers sailed out to participate in the battle of Jutland and the battle of Heligoland Bight.

The German admiralty converted Heligoland into a sort of shore battery. Three great batteries were planted in the rock in a manner which gave the cliff the appearance of the interior of four-decked battleships. Already the 11-inch guns and their carriages have been sawed into small bits and thrown into scrap steel. Workmen are now plying electrical drills in the concrete walls and bases, preparatory to shooting down all the masonry.

The seaplane sheds, coal bins, oil tanks and water reservoirs along the shore have also been blasted and dynamited and hundreds of workmen are grinding away at the gun bases of the sea-level guns, and the foundations of the great seawall enclosing the naval harbor, preparatory to removing every improvement which might be of use to Germany's future navy.

Heligoland once was a popular summer resort. But the German visitors do not stay long at the island this year, because of the constant blasting and the evidences of devastation which affords a sad monument to Germany's once proud navy. The native residents of the island are indifferent to the devastation, as most of them were born under the British flag, before Heligoland was transferred by the British to the Germans.

FOUR MORE BODIES RECOVERED FROM WRECK

(By The Associated Press)

Hull, Eng., Aug. 29.—Four more bodies were recovered by salvagers from the wreckage of the ZR-2 today. They are those of Air Commodore E. M. Maitland, of the British Flying corps, Mr. Campbell, Superintendent of the Royal Air Force, where the dirigible was built; C. W. Duffield of the National Physical Laboratory and Charles I. Allen, an American rigger.

Commodore Maitland's body was encased in wire and before it could be secured the wreck had to be cut. The body was badly mutilated and his hand was still grasping a control cord.

The left leg of Mr. Duffield, like that of Lt. Commander Emory Cole, U. S. N., whose body was recovered yesterday, was fractured.

The control car of the airship is believed to be among the wreckage brought ashore today.

CHARGED WITH HOMICIDE.

Altenburg, N. J., Aug. 29.—Salvatore Lacorde, a Cuban student at the college of Mechanical Engineering, Cornell university, who is locked up in the jail at Freehold in connection with the death of Cecil Adrian Arthur, was charged tonight with homicide. Arthur died Sunday morning from injuries received during a fist fight with Lacorde at a hotel near the Freehold ball field Friday night.

PLAN NEW CAMPAIGN

To Bring the Unorganized Into Solid Union Phalanx Against the Open Shop

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 29.—The opening of the "open shop" campaign and the "aggressive hostilities" of employers have strengthened rather than weakened the solidarity of organized labor movement, it was declared in a statement tonight by the executive council of the American Federation of Labor. The council issued its decision, the statement said, upon reports submitted by affiliated national and international unions and other information collected throughout the country.

Analysis of the report, the statement said, showed that a reduction in payment in dues by the federation's membership was due principally to the wave of unemployment throughout the country. Secretary Frank Morrison took occasion to deny reports published today that the federation had suffered a slump of 750,000 members during the present industrial crisis. Mr. Morrison referred to figures announced at the Denver convention, which showed a decrease of 172,212 members during the past year, but declined to give any figures on the present membership.

Calling upon all affiliated unions to join in a great organization campaign, a statement by the council said:

"The executive council is keenly alive to the tremendous forces at work to destroy trade unionism. It is appreciative of the depressive industrial situation and impressed strongly with the desire and need of organizing the unorganized in a solid trade union phalanx for mutual protection and for the advancement of the wage earners' common interest. It has been determined to originate a comprehensive and extensive organizing campaign."

"The workers are also called upon to observe Labor Day in a fitting way and to manifest in an unmistakable manner that the cause of labor is more alive today than ever in the history of the trade union movement."

The statement declared the council welcomed the "changing attitude of the church and of the women's organizations toward the trade union movement as evidence of the fact that while plutocracy may attempt to exclusively control the material things of life, the money and credit of the nation, it does not and cannot control the heart and soul of America."

The executive council also went on record tonight as binding themselves to the instructions of the Denver convention to support the Irish peoples' in their struggle for the recognition of the Irish republic."

ANOTHER SUICIDE AT NIAGARA FALLS

Edward H. Rippon of Buffalo in Ill Health, Alleges Innocence of Imaginary Charge

Niagara Falls, Aug. 29.—Edward H. Rippon of Buffalo was swept over the Bridal Falls at Niagara this afternoon and dashed to death on the rocky below. The body was recovered within two hours—a record for recovery of fallen victims—and identified as that of Rippon.

Rippon's skull was fractured when he fell head first on the big rocks at the base of the falls. The body then passed out about twenty feet and became wedged between the rocks in small rapids near the Cave of the Winds.

Investigation Supt. E. R. Walnberger and Harold Wright, in charge of the Cave of the Winds, made a bridge of planks between two big rocks, crawled out on the planking, secured the body with ropes, and drew it slowly back to solid ground. It was a hazardous feat, with the water of the cataract thundering about the rescuers. Hundreds of tourists watched from the upper shore as the men struggled to recover the body.

A note left by Rippon told of a will he had made disposing of his property. It gave no hints as to the motive of the suicide, except it proclaimed the writer's innocence of something of which evidently he had been accused in connection with his work in the railway mail service. Officials of this service said tonight that they had heard of no charges against Rippon. He had been ill for two weeks, they said.

QUICK CHECK SWITCHING NETS SWINDLERS $35,000

Toronto, Aug. 29.—Quick check switching and a fake stamp enabled two men to fleece the Bank of Commerce here of $35,000 last Saturday. It was learned today. They presented checks payable for the amount during the rush hour, and were told to get them marked for acceptance by the ledger keeper.

In a few minutes both returned to the paying teller's window with the checks marked "accepted," and it was not until they had gone that it was discovered the signatures were not those of the depositor and that the "accepted" came from a second window.

ONE POINT SETTLED IN BASEBALL TRIAL

Proper Way to Pronounce Eddie Cicotte's Name.

Filed at Way Lawyers Distort His Cognomen, Little Pitcher Arises in Court and Explains to the Presiding Judge.

At least one point already has been settled in the baseball trial. That is the proper way to pronounce the name of Eddie Cicotte, former White Sox pitcher and one of the defendants.

The matter came up during an argument in court over the confessions of Cicotte, Jackson, and Williams made to the grand jury last fall at the time of their indictment.

James C. O'Brien, defense attorney, in arguing a point, referred to "Eddie Cicotte."

Ben Short, another defense attorney, in supporting Mr. O'Brien, pronounced the former White Sox pitcher's name "Sy-kott."

Henry Berger, also of counsel for the defense, chimed in with a remark in which he referred to "Eddie Cicotte."

That was too much for the little pitcher, Arisbig, he said to Judge Hugo Friend:

"I beg your honor's pardon, but would you please have it entered in the court record that my name is Ed-

Edward V. Cicotte, pronounced See-kott, with the accent on the See. "Let it be so entered," said Judge Friend to his clerk after the laughter had subsided.

HAS HOBBY FOR GIRLS' LOCKS

Indiana Youth Has Preference for Brunettes, but in Pinch Took Any Kind.

Indianapolis.—And now comes the hair fad, the collector of curly locks, brunettes preferred, but golden and blonde varieties will do in a pinch.

Honore James, twenty-eight years old, of Portland, Ind., dental student, has the peculiar hobby of collecting locks of women's hair, especially brunettes, according to his story to the police. This whim caused him to be placed in prison on a charge of vagrancy. He was held under bond of $2,000 after he had been followed for more than a mile by Miss Elizabeth Williams and Miss Ince Ellis, nurses at the Methodist hospital.

According to Miss Williams, Jones has been seen frequently around the nurses' home within the last few weeks. She said he had asked many of the nurses for locks of their hair and had caused much fright among the young women, who had found him at times prowling through the building.

Miss Williams and Miss Ellis were walking at Illinois and Ohio streets when they said Jones passed them and Miss Williams recognized him. They followed him to where Policemen Kelly and Mullins were called. The police say Jones admitted asking the women for locks of hair.

A DARK DAY FOR ONEONTA

Dusky Tribe from Brooklyn Too Much for Oneonta—Several Features—Locals Didn't Have a Chance—Walton Here Today.

The Brooklyn Royal Giants played a return engagement in the city yesterday and the result was a far different one from that on their appearance about a month ago when the locals came out ahead in a 14-inning game. That was another day—yes, indeed! This time the visitors were very stungy with their hits and only favored two Oneonta batters by allowing them to hit safely and each got two; McGrath with a double and a single, and Hatch with a brace of singles did all of the safe hitting that the locals secured. Carr was even more stingy with his passes than with hits, he allowing a free trip to first. It began to look as one time as if he wouldn't grant any bingles, for it was not until after two were down in the fifth that the first local hit came through. McGrath certainly did pummel the horseshoe covered sphere in a nice manner between left and center.

Doughan passed Miller, first up in the third. The twirler, in endeavoring to catch the dusky one off the sack, heaved the ball to the bleachers, Miller making second. Wagner bunted to Doughan, but a slight delay on the part of the mounman got the ball to Scott too late to be of any benefit.

Carr sacrificed to second, but Miller was held at third. Jefferson hit to Farrell and the latter, by a quick and good peg got the ball to his plate in time for McGrath to catch the runner by touching his foot. Fails singled and stole second. On a return of a pitched ball by McGrath to Doughan, the latter dropped the ball and no sooner had he done so than Jefferson started from third, where he had gone on Fails's single, to the plate. Steffin grasped the situation and the ball, making a peg to the plate for the retirement of the third man and ceasing the efforts in the scoring business for the time being. The ball, however, was not put on the runner until he started for the dugout; he had missed the plate.

In the next round, with two-thirds of the inning gone to waste, Douglas poled one over McCarthy's sign in center field.

Their most joyful lining, and Oneonta's darkest one, was the fifth, in which ten men faced Doughan. Johnny walked the first man, who was forced at second on an attempted sacrifice. Jefferson hit to Farrell, who made a hurried throw to Byrnes, with Umpire VanWie calling the runner out, only to reverse his decision as the ball was sent to top from the generally sure clutches of the local catcher.

Falls got a safe clout to center, Carr scoring. Jefferson taking third and himself getting the middle stopping point on the throw in. Both Jefferson and Falls scored on Scott's double between Baird and Hatch.

Brooks was also in the heavy hitting line, struck out by Doughan, 4. Byrnes, 3. Left on bases—Brooklyn, 6; Oneonta, 5. Double plays—Hermann to Byrnes to Hermann; Brooks to Douglas. Wild pitches—Doughan, 2. Passed ball—McGrath. Hit by pitcher—by Doughan, (Cason 2). First base on errors—Brooklyn, 1; Oneonta, 2. Stolen bases—Falls Sacrifice hits—Miller, Wagner. Carr. Time of game—1:43. Umpires—Beane and Van Wie.

There were several cheer and applause bringing plays pulled off. In the first, with a man on second and none down, Fails hit to Hermann, who, seeing that Jefferson was not making any move to leave second, threw to Byrnes, who sent the ball back, special delivery in time to catch Jefferson trying to make third. It was a very neat double and brought forth favorable signs from the populace in attendance.

The visitors from the city of the Superbas got a double retirement themselves in the ninth. Hatch was out first by virtue of a single, then Byrnes hit to Brooks, covering second. The latter touched Hatch as he went past and then threw to first, getting Byrnes and ending the game.

Baird was robbed of a hit in the first by a neat catch of a liner by Brooks. It was the first time the local captain had failed to get a hit in 21 successive games. Wagner also made a fine catch of a fly by chasing back of third to the foul line to get under one put up by Byrnes. Jefferson dropped any lead which might have been in his shoes in chasing after a fly of Farrell's to the foul line in right. A bad throw by Wagner pulled Douglas nearly off the bag, but the latter managed to keep connected with the sack while he stretched himself way out toward the plate and grasped the ball.

Not all of the good playing was done by the visitors. Baird came in for a couple of cheerings. One was in the second when he got a fly almost directly off the fence. Another was in the sixth when he ran in and pitched a half liner off his shoestrings. Oneonta showed some accurate pegging around the diamond in the fifth round.

On April 19, 1907, Ed Walsh, had 12 assists in a game against St. Louis, according to the New York Tribune. Yesterday Doughan evidently tried to equal that stunt, he getting eight assists, and he had a couple of others come his way which just missed being assists.

Walton will be the attraction on the local diamond this afternoon. The box score and summary:

GARDENER DIGS UP MASTODON

Third One Found in New York Lately and Second by Same Man—Scien-tists to Examine it.

Newburgh, N. Y.—For the third time within a few years the skeleton of a mastodon has been found near this city, two of them in the last year by one man, Anthony Fischera, an Italian gardener living near Washington Lake, four miles from Newburgh. He had said nothing of his first discovery of a buried heap of huge bones, but when he recently found another on his farm, he mentioned his dual find to a local patron, Hugo Hirschelm, who is a student of paleontology. Mr. Hirschelm told Fischera of the remarkable character of his chance discoveries.

The skeleton was about three feet under the surface, the body having apparently lain on its side, so that one of its feet bones was first brought to light. Although the entire skeleton has not been secured and some of the parts recovered are very porous and soft, as a whole they are considered to be well preserved. The lower jaw bones, tusks, leg bones, pelvic bones, shoulder blades and portions of the vertebrae are apparently in the early stages of fossilization.

One of the tusks is broken in two, but otherwise not damaged. From tip to tip measured on the inside of the curve, it is 75 inches in length, while about midway it measures 18 inches in circumference. One of the vertebrae bones is 15 by 14 inches in size. A state official has announced his purpose of coming to inspect the find.

Kerguelen Most Isolated Island.

The claim to being the most completely isolated island on the map is being urged in favor of the island of Kerguelen, in the southern Indian ocean, it being more than 3,000 miles from any other body of land of any size.

Where Duellists Are Barred.

A curious old form of oath, which bars those who have fought duels from holding office in the county or state, is still administered in Texas. The man elected has to swear he has never had any part in a duel.

Raw Bones Become Glue.

Raw bones are now being made into glue by treatment with sulphur dioxide, the fat being removed with benzene and the mass being boiled in water under a pressure. The resulting substance is a very good glue.

William Fox presents
"After Your Own Heart"

Tom Mix will be at this Theatre Thursday and Friday in a snappy western picture called "After Your Own Heart." Tom has had some lively experiences as cowboy, ranch foreman, deputy sheriff, law enforcement officer, stunt rider and trainer of trick horses. "After Your Own Heart," which is a Fox production, gives him something novel, however, for he uses airplanes and autos in his work on the ranch.

How to Make the Most Delicious
Peach Jam You Ever Tasted

New Certo Process Never Fails

Actually Preserves All the Flavor and Color of Ripe Peaches, Requires But One Minute's Boiling, and Makes Two-thirds More Jam from Same Amount of Fruit

Home grown peaches are now plentiful at a low price, sugar is cheap, and housewives are putting up peach jam as never before. Best of all, the new Certo Process has revolutionized the making of peach jam, because, under the old method, it uses ripe peaches and actually preserves real peach flavor. The taste of peach jam made with Certo is absolutely different from any peach jam made by the old method, because its flavor is practically the same as fresh peaches.

With the Certo Process full-ripe peaches are used—not unripe peaches as necessary by the old method. The Certo Process retains all the rich flavor of this ripe fruit, because it requires only one minute's boiling—not the 30 or more minutes required by the old method, which destroyed the flavor and made it difficult to distinguish as peach. With Certo the result is far superior fruit flavor and we thirds more jam from the same amount of fruit, because no juice is boiled away. It also banishes all "messwork" or worry, as perfect results are certain.

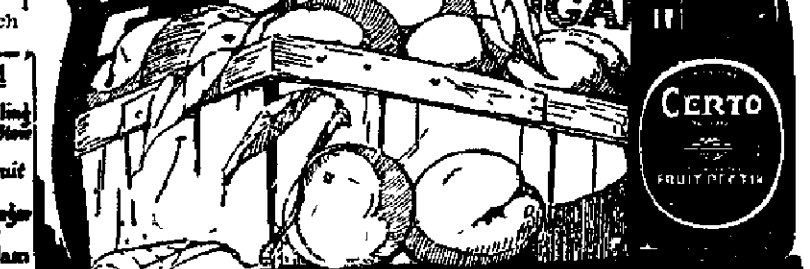

Jam is very simple. Crush ripe peaches or slice very fine, measure 4 level cups (2 lbs.) of crushed fruit into large preserving kettle. Then add 6½ heaping cups (3½ lbs.) of sugar and mix well. Bring to a vigorous boil, stirring well all the time and boil hard for one minute. Remove from fire and add one scant cup (one bottle) of Certo with stirring. Let stand one minute, skim and pour into glasses. Makes 3½ pints or 11 half-pound glasses of jam.

Certo is a pure fruit product—contains no gelatin or preservative. It positively saves time, fruit, flavor of ripe fruit and guesswork. Certo makes all kinds of jams and jellies with fresh or canned fruit, some you have never made before. It is highly endorsed by all cooking experts who have used it. Every woman who tries Certo recommends it to her friends and says she'll never be without it. No more whole mornings spent over a hot stove to make a few glasses of jam of jelly. No more wasted batches of fruit and sugar. And C to Jams and jellies keep as well as any ever made. Get a bottle of Certo and a recipe book from your grocer or druggist at once. For extra free copies of the Certo Book of Recipes, write to Pectin Sales Co. Inc., 360 East Avenue, Rochester, N. Y.

Start the new—the sure, quick, economical way of making jams and jellies. You'll never return to the old "hit or miss" method. But you will learn how to make fresh jams and jellies in small batches during the winter—from dried or canned fruit, winter fruits or bottled juices.

The Certo Process for making peach jam

Certo Process	Old Method
1 minute's boiling	15 minutes' boiling at least
2 pounds of fruit with 3 pounds sugar plus 4 ounces of Certo makes	2 pounds of fruit with 2 pounds of Sugar makes only
3 pounds of Jam	3 pounds of Jam

BACK FROM POK O' MOONSHINE

Five Boys Return to the City After Spending Summer in Adirondacks.

Tanner and otherwise showing evidence of having lived a vigorous life in the out of doors, five boys arrived in the city from Camp Pok o' Moonshine, Adirondack mountains, yesterday. Four of the boys, Frank Miller, Charles Lauren, Sylvester Ford and Duncan Briggs, were at the camp two months, and Marcus P. Hamstreet was there during August. In the closing hours of the boys took more than their share of the camp honors.

Camp Pok o' Moonshine is situated on Echo lake and at the foot of Pok o' Moonshine mountain. When the camp broke up yesterday morning, a special train of three cars brought the campers to Albany, where they separated for their different destinations. Mrs. Frank Miller met them and brought her son Frank, with Duncan Briggs and Marcus Hamstreet home in her car. Charles Lauren came with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Lauren, who, with their daughter, Miss Mary and Miss Dorothy Rowe, had been touring in the Adirondacks; and Sylvester Ford arrived on the evening train for a few days' visit with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Ford.

KEETON'S BAND ENGAGED

WILL ACCOMPANY ONEONTA DELEGATION TO COUNTY PICNIC TOMORROW.

Hundreds of Motor Cars From City Expected to Carry Many to Participate in the Big County Get Together Picnic—Secret Time Motor Run Planned.

Keeton's band will accompany the Oneonta delegation to the County picnic tomorrow at the county farm, and Cooperstown, where they will play for the honor, "where'll be a hot time at the gathering which will draw hundreds of men, women and children from every section of Orsego County.

Final details for the automobile secret time run to be made tomorrow morning under the auspices of the Oneonta Automobile club and the Chamber of Commerce were planned yesterday by the officers and committee representing those organizations. Absolute secrecy will be the order of the time in which the race-setting run will be made, and President L. P. Butts of the club has had plenty of smiles over the "pumping" of inquisitive motorists, replying to each one, "The time will not be too fast for the slowest car or too slow for the fastest car." The member of the Auto club making the run in the nearest number of minutes to the secret time will receive a large silver loving cup, which will be displayed upon its arrival, probably today, the prize being given by the Automobile club.

It's Everybody's Party.

Everybody in the community of Oneonta is invited to join in the party. Members of non-members, motorists or non-motorists, men, women and children, the doings are for all. President Butts has given assurance to those not having cars that accommodations will be provided for them in cars not carrying the full quota of passengers.

Apres will be started between 9 and 11 o'clock tomorrow morning on Main street as a race from the Chamber of Commerce offices facing east at any time between those hours convenient to the motorists. President Butts will tag each auto, marking the starting time on the card. Another club official will check the finishing time at the County Farm, near Phoenix Mills, and the actual running time or elapsed time will be computed from those figures. Automobiles not entering the secret time run are asked to leave between the same hours, 9 to 11 o'clock.

Call the Chamber Offices.

Everybody that's going on the big party to the county-wide get-together to display the real community spirit that exists between the city and rural districts, is asked to call the Chamber offices today, 326. Motorists are requested to designate the approximate time they expect to make their start and whether they will have room for additional passengers in their cars. Those without cars are asked to state the approximate time they would like to leave and the number in their party.

It's a basket picnic and everybody is expected to bring their own lunch, although liquid refreshments in the form of milk and other nutritious beverages will be served from booths at the County Farm. The program starts at 11 o'clock and will close in the late afternoon, early enough for all to get back to Oneonta in time for their evening meal.

The Women Are Organizing.

The men aren't running this affair entirely. The Home Bureau plays a big part in the picnic program, and the women of Oneonta will be there in strong numbers to show the domestic science department that the city housewives are with the womenfolk of villages and townships to the bitter or sweet end. Mrs. M. C. Hamstreet, president of the Women's club, started yesterday to line up a big delegation of women for the affair and entering into the spirit of the picnic, whether their husbands go or not, it doesn't matter. Only if their husbands don't go, they'll have to eat luncheon at a restaurant, because Wednesday is a county holiday. Demonstrations will be in progress at the picnic during the forenoon, under the auspices of the Home Bureau, Farm Bureau, and Junior Extension department. Milo D. Campbell, president of the National Milk Producers' Association, will give the only address of the day in the afternoon. A ball game between Springfield Center and Milford will close the day's events.

Registration for High School.

Registration for the High school begins Thursday morning at 9 o'clock for the freshmen. The sophomores will register on Friday and the seniors on Saturday. It is quite necessary that all intending to attend the High school this year register the present week; and if it is not possible to appear on the day above indicated, that he or she could come on one of the other days. Registration will be both morning and afternoon and will be held in the room next to the principal's office, known as the Civics room.

HOLDING HAYWARD

HE MAY BE EXTRAITED FOR THEFT.

Blood Stained Clothes and Conflicting Stories are the Only Evidence So Far.

Evidence in the case of George Hayward of Syracuse, who is being held as a suspect in the mystery which surrounds the murder of Harry P. Weidman of this city in Scranton, still lacks the proper amount of facts to ascertain whether he was implicated in the shooting or not.

Hayward has undergone several severe grillings and his stories are still so conflicting that those who have been questioning him are uncertain as to whether he is the man that they want or not. Lieutenant of Police Harry Davis and City Detective Ben Gilbert of Scranton were in Syracuse yesterday and yesterday. They returned to Scranton late last evening and will confer with Captain of Detectives Savits today to ascertain whether extradition proceedings will be brought against Hayward.

Every time Hayward is questioned he tells a different story, making the case more complicated, so much so that the authorities have not been able to get a tangible story from him. It is thought that he will be extradited on the charge of stealing the automobile which he drove from Scranton to Syracuse, and which is claimed to have been identified as the one that was stolen in Philadelphia, but nevertheless the authorities suspect him of being mixed up in the crime in Scranton.

He has admitted that he was in the vicinity when the crime was committed, but claims he does not know anything further than what he read in the papers the following morning. He has also admitted that there were men by the names of Cassidy and Smith who were with him in the car. Cassidy he claims is a Syracuse man, but does not know where Smith lives.

The Scranton authorities are making every effort to find the man Smith, who Hayward claims hired him to take the car out of Pennsylvania. Another story that he tells is that he was hired by a man in Binghamton to take the car out of New York state.

Captain Savits stated last evening that the two officials that had been in Syracuse this morning in thought that extradition proceedings would be brought, but that this was not certain, as he had not had a chance to talk with Davis or Gilbert to find out just what Hayward had told them.

The man arrested in Scranton last Tuesday and who was being held was released yesterday afternoon, as the authorities have not been able to get any information that would warrant holding him. The Scranton police would not divulge the man's name.

There is also a new lot of selected books for boys and girls.

Girls Camping at Goodyear.

Miss Bertha Poston, secretary of the Family Social Work association, with ten girls is camping this week at the Aekley camp at Cliffside on Goodyear lake. They left yesterday morning in autos and expect to have a delightful time at the resort, which is so popular with Oneontans. The camp is under the direction of the Family Social Work association, which under Miss Poston's direction is doing a great service in helping to provide pleasant outings and other entertainment as well as aid to the working girls of the city.

Auto Wreck Victims Doing Nicely.

Mrs. F. J. Mason and Rice Joslyn, victims of the auto wreck at Edmonds last Saturday, are reported to be doing nicely at the Fox Memorial hospital. Dr. Arthur W. Cutler operated on Mrs. Mason yesterday and if complications do not set in it is believed her face will not be disfigured. Rice Joslyn, whose injury consists of a fractured knee cap, is also doing well.

ONEONTA WOMEN GOLFERS WIN

Defeat Binghamton County Club Women on Saturday, 18½ to 11½.

On Saturday the women golfers of the Binghamton Country club played a return match with the women of the Oneonta Country club and were defeated by the score of 18½ to 11½. The visitors were entertained by the Oneonta ladies at the Country club and the best of the clubhouse afforded was none too good for them, so agreeable were they in the game and so generous was the hospitality they extended the Oneonta players when they were in Binghamton. Mrs. L. P. Butts, Mrs. W. W. Capron and Mrs. J. A. Dewar were pitted perhaps against the strongest players among the visitors and much credit is due them for the score turned in, they having to play good golf to win points and help win the victory. Mrs. J. E. Hay also made a good showing for a beginner at the game.

The points made by each player follows, the first Oneonta lady mentioned played with the first Binghamton lady, and so on down through the list.

A TALK WITH AN ONEONTA MAN

Mr. F. J. Moore, Railroad Fireman of 33 Gilbert Street, Tells of His Experience.

There is nothing like a talk with one of our own citizens for giving hope and encouragement to the anxious sufferer from the dread kidney disease. We, therefore, give here an interview with an Oneonta man:

"I was bothered with kidney trouble for quite awhile and there was a constant, dull pain across my back and kidneys," says Mr. Moore. "I could hardly turn over in bed, my back hurt so. I had to get up often at night to pass the kidney secretions, too. A friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, and after taking three boxes, the trouble disappeared. I gladly recommend Doan's to anyone in need of a kidney medicine."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Moore had. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

HAPPY PEOPLE OF TONGA

Civilization Not Wanted Says Its Premier—Principle of Brotherhood Dominates Its People With No Discontent.

A recent copy of the New Zealand Herald received at this office from Hon. D. F. Wilber, U. S. consul general in New Zealand contains the following interview with the native premier of Tonga, an island in the South Pacific, which will be read with interest by all: Our boasted civilization does not impress Tuivakano, the premier of the native kingdom of Tonga, who is visiting Sydney.

In the conversation with the party of pressmen who interviewed him, Tuivakano, chuckled at the term "civilization," and inquired if it was usually interpreted to express Russian affairs, Irish dissension and outrages, and universal enmity. In that event he propounded a panacea. Not necessarily a League of Nations, or agreement in armaments but the acceptance everywhere of the principle of brotherhood.

The premier, as Aucklanders know is a gentleman of education and great courtesy, widely read in international affairs, and while a student of things abstract more or less obviously loves the simple life and the simple ways. He speaks excellent English from a fine vocabulary and is constructive in thought and expression.

"Brotherhood as a panacea," he said to the Evening News representative. "Perhaps you would call it primitive. But only because it is simple and probably Tongan. You do not seem able to envisage anything better with all your parley and parliaments. And what are Lloyd George and the rest trying for, if it isn't brotherhood. My people do not understand this diplomacy, and it does not seem to have been a success with yours. Try the simple remedies, for the simple things appeal to the hearts of the people and make for true happiness."

"Have you noted anything in our laws worthy of adopting?" a reporter queried. "It would be very nice to go in for taxation," he answered with a merry laugh. "It would be a very simple way of settling all problems. But the Tongans would not have it. No, ha, ha. They would say that were too lazy to think. 'Outside that,' he continued, 'I have seen nothing. We legislate for our conditions. That is we make legislation for conditions, not conditions for legislation. I hope I put it right in your language. I don't know.' "Have you any suggestions over there?" was a question he took quite seriously. "Feminism," he answered. "Of course our women heard of it from the outside world, but we explained to them that their place was the home. There they are quite content to remain."

"Do they not crave for the fashions?" "Oh, they are sufficiently dressed in accordance with our own customs. I do not understand that term fashions. If you mean some of the dresses I have seen, I would say, 'No, our women do not crave for the fashions.'"

Finally the premier said, "Tonga everyone is happy. Some people say we are advanced enough. Maybe, but we are well content with our lot, and our dearest wish is to remain independent. We have no public debt, no income tax, no strikes, and none of the other 'blessings of civilization' that Australia and other 'advanced' countries so abundantly possess, and we do not want them."

IN THE CITY COURT

Two Men Arrested Saturday Night Plead Guilty and Receive Suspended Sentences in Albany Pen.

Walter Resler and William W. Simcal, both of Millerton, Pa., pleaded guilty to respective charges of carrying concealed weapons and being a state tramp when arraigned before Judge Frank C. Huntington in the city court yesterday morning and received 30 day suspended sentences in the Albany penitentiary and 15 minutes to leave the city.

Resler and Simcal were arrested by Chief Horton and Sergeant O'Dell Saturday night after boasting in a public place of their ability to evade officers of the law. The police intended to hold them as vagrants but after a search revealed a brand new .38 revolver on Resler the charge was changed. The men were released and left the city, minus of course the pistol.

U. S. SECOND IN NAVAL STRENGTH

Present Building Program Will Not Alter Standing

JAPAN IS IN THIRD PLACE

Ranking of First Three Nations in Ship Tonnage When Present Programs Are Completed Would Be Great Britain, 1,700,000; United States, 1,650,000; Japan, 850,000—American Big Gun Power Greater Than That of Great Britain.

If the great sea powers of the world should agree to cease authorizing huge sums of money for building battle-ships, America would remain in second place, with Great Britain first and Japan a rather poor third. These positions would result from completion of the construction of ships already contracted for or authorized, says Frederic J. Haskin in the Chicago Daily News.

The present building programs of the nations will not be completed until about 1925. British losses during the war would put the United States very close to Great Britain in the matter of tonnage of ships of battle, the difference being only about 50,000 tons.

U. S. Tonnage Is 1,650,000.

The ranking of the first three nations in ship tonnage when the present programs are completed would be Great Britain, 1,700,000; United States, 1,650,000; Japan, 850,000. These tonnage figures include only first line ships—superdreadnaughts, battle cruisers, scout cruisers, destroyers, submarines and a few special types of ships. The figures do not include second line battleships, ships whose age or lower caliber armament has made them virtually useless as modern sea fighting machines.

The development of the dreadnaught class made all earlier vessels virtually useless. It was easy to demonstrate that one of these vessels, with greater speed and much longer range guns, could stand off and destroy a whole fleet of the type of fighting ship which preceded it.

Any comparison of national sea power must of course be relative. The introduction of the seaplane as a fighting unit has put a new light on the whole situation, but many naval experts still are insistent that the true comparative values of the navies of the world must be computed from the tonnage of the ships of the first line, with particular stress on the big gun vessels, such as battle cruisers and superdreadnaughts.

So-called second line ships still have their uses in war. The blockading of ports on coast lines, certain kinds of patrol duty and the raiding of commerce-carrying vessels has been demonstrated to be an important part of maritime warfare, and there are many vessels in the navies of the world well-fitted for this kind of duty. This is particularly true of the British navy.

On known figures, American big gun power apparently is greater than that of the British navy. However, the number of 16-inch guns in the British navy is not known and may be large enough to swing the balance in favor of England. Big guns include those of 12-inch bore and up.

Britain's Tonnage.

Latest figures show the strength of the British navy, already built, to be as follows:

First line battleships, 26; second line, 20; first line battle cruisers, 6; second line, 4; first line cruisers, 2; second line, 20; first line light cruisers, 44; second line, 24; destroyer leaders, 24; first line destroyers, 334; second line, 42; first line submarines, 73; second line 60; first line fleet submarines, 18; second line, 7; cruiser submarine, 1; monitor type submarines, 2; aircraft carriers, 6.

In addition to this array of vessels, Great Britain has the following ships now building:

First line light cruisers, 3; destroyer leader, 1; first line destroyers, 11; first line fleet submarines, 13; monitor type submarine, 1.

The total number of British ships in commission listed above is 717, with an aggregate tonnage of 2,412,146. There are 36 ships under construction, aggregating 70,800 tons.

The American navy has in commission the following vessels:

First line battleships, 18; second line, 18; second line cruisers, 10; second line light cruisers, 3; first line destroyers, 200; second line, 21; first line submarines, 43; second line, 44; first line fleet submarines, 2.

Listed among the ships building and authorized for the United States navy are the following:

First line battleships, 11; first line battle cruisers, 6; first line light cruisers, 10; first line destroyers, 39; first line submarines, 51; first line fleet submarines, 4.

Roughly, the tonnage of the 421 American naval vessels listed as in commission is 1,183,000; of the ships building, exclusive of the submarines, the tonnage is given as 801,000.

Japan's Tonnage 486,252.

Japan's present navy is given as follows:

First line battleships, 6; second line, 4; first line battle cruisers, 4; second line, 5; first line light cruisers, 6; second line, 1; first line destroyers, 27; second line, 12; second line submarines, 12.

The figures given for the ships projected and building are:

First line battleships, 3 building, 4 authorized or projected; first line battle cruisers, 8, none yet laid down; first line light cruisers, 6, probably all building; first line destroyers, 15 building and 30 projected; first line submarines, 40, all building; aircraft carrier, 1, now building; second line submarines, 9 authorized.

The tonnage of the 75 Japanese vessels listed as in commission in the Japanese navy is 486,252; of the uncompleted building program, made up of 119 ships, the tonnage is given as 604,870. This figure does not include the 9 second line submarines, the tonnage of which vessels is unknown.

Comparison of the three navies by big gun power is not complete because the number of 16-inch guns in the British navy is not known. The known figures show, though, that when the present building programs are completed, Great Britain will have mounted on 31 ships a total of 44 guns of 12-inch bore; 144 guns of 13½-inch bore and 100 guns of 15-inch bore, in addition to an unknown number of 16-inch guns.

The United States will have mounted on 83 ships a total of 64 guns of 12-inch bore; no 13½-inch guns, 112 guns of 14-inch bore; no 15-inch guns, and 152 guns of 16-inch bore.

The Japanese navy will have mounted on 17 vessels, 8 guns of 12-inch bore; no 13½-inch guns; 80 guns of 14-inch bore; no 15-inch guns, and 72 guns of 16-inch bore.

The totals show that the American navy will have 328 big guns; the British navy exclusive of the unknown number of the largest size rifles, 288, and the Japanese navy, 160 big guns.

Battle Conditions Have Changed.

The war demonstrated that comparisons of navies on paper cannot be taken as absolute criteria of sea power. The German surface craft, after the one big battle of Jutland, were bottled up at Heligoland for the remainder of the war, while enemy submarines were busy all the time sinking American and allied ships. If there should be another great war, it is certainly possible that development of naval aircraft may be such that submarines may be spotted easily from the air and destroyed by some kind of depth bomb. The result of a development of this kind would be to make submarine craft almost useless for any purpose.

Many government experts even now are maintaining stoutly that the most powerful and swiftest first-line fighting ships will be destroyed with ease, should another great sea war be fought, by seaplanes hovering high out of reach, dropping huge bombs of terrible destructive power, with sufficient precision to annihilate the greatest array of surface and subsurface craft any nation of the world could put on the face of the waters.

LATEST VICINITY NOTES

Events of Actual Interest Recorded in Exchanges of Obituaries and Adjoining Counties.

The members of the town boards and the highway superintendents of Chenango county held a picnic at Chenango lake last Thursday. There was a good attendance, all the towns were two being represented, and there were addresses by Deputy State Highway commissioner Reed, District Superintendent Perry, Chairman Banks of the board of supervisors and several others. There were about 250 persons present.

Miss Ella Sulck, aged 86, and John Kniffin, aged 78, and both of Ulster county, were married last week at Port Ewen. The bride owns a large farm and for the past three years the groom has been in her employ.

The last chapter in a tragic family history was written Wednesday afternoon, when Mrs. Angela Rich Ellis of South New Berlin committed suicide by hanging. She was a sister of Palmer Rich, whose mysterious disappearance was lately revived by the finding of a skeleton under a building in that vicinity. Ransom Rich, a brother of Mrs. Ellis, was also a suicide, as was the wife of Palmer Rich.

When the cornerstone of the new Lutheran church at Ghent was laid recently, one of those on the platform was Mrs. Jane Eolsapples, aged 88 years, who was present when the corner stone of the old church was laid in 1846.

Wilford Hendricks of Margaretville had a knee cap broken Monday of last week in an auto accident at Ulster park, in which two cars came together and both were overturned. He is now at the Kingston city hospital.

Rev. C. S. Wyckoff, pastor of the First Congregational church at Walton, has resigned, the resignation to take effect October 9. He goes to Plainville, Conn., a village near Hartford. Mr. Wyckoff has been in Walton nine years and will be greatly missed.

The county line of Ulster and Delaware counties runs through the New Grand hotel at Highmount. For this reason the trial of the booze cases—and the custody of the exhibits—has been transferred to Delaware since the seizure was made in that part of the building in the latter county.

A Sidney creameryman recently lost $70 in bills which he had placed on a shelf near a bottle of sulphuric acid. In some way the bottle got tipped over and the contents had just about finished the money before it was discovered. The cremated remains have been sent to the U. S. treasury for salvage.
